

MA IN SOCIOLOGY

Total units required for MA: 30

Program Description

The Master of Arts Program in Sociology is designed to provide a broad academic foundation for a variety of professional opportunities and community needs such as survey research, evaluation and applied research, social problem analysis, career interest in community organizations, and teaching.

The program offers small once-a-week evening seminars and allows for close student-faculty interaction. It encourages students to seek internships and fieldwork, and participate in the many government, voluntary, and private agencies in the Sacramento area. Students will concentrate on theory and research methods as well as areas of elective specialization. Following coursework, students will complete a culminating experience project or thesis, depending on the student's educational and occupational goals.

Many of our graduates enter employment in state, local, and city government agencies, non-profits, and private businesses that conduct evaluation and applied research, systems analysis, social problems analysis, and social impact assessment. A small number of our graduates enter PhD programs with an aim to teach and research at the university level.

Minimum Admission Requirements

Admission as a classified graduate student in the Sociology MA Program requires:

- A baccalaureate degree (a baccalaureate degree in Sociology is preferred).
- A minimum cumulative undergraduate GPA of 3.0.
- Satisfactory completion of a minimum of 18 units of undergraduate work in sociology, including one course each in theory, statistics, and methodology (see below), with a minimum 3.0 GPA.
 - SOC 101 Introduction to Statistics for Sociologists (or equivalent)
 - SOC 102 Research Methods in Sociology (or equivalent)
 - SOC 192 Sociological Theory (or equivalent)

Students who have deficiencies in admissions requirements that can be removed by specified additional preparation may be admitted with a "conditionally classified" graduate status rather than a "classified" graduate student status. Any such deficiencies will be noted on a written response to the admission application.

Admission Procedures

All prospective graduate students must complete a CSU System Application via CalStateApply (<https://www.calstate.edu/apply/>).

The following are all the components that must be submitted on CalStateApply.

- A statement of purpose.
- One writing sample.
- One set of unofficial transcripts from all the colleges and universities attended, including Sacramento State transcripts, in one PDF.
- Two letters of recommendation.

Before applying, please review all the detailed application instructions and information on the Sociology Department website (<https://www.csus.edu/college/social-sciences-interdisciplinary-studies/sociology/graduate-program-requirements.html>) and the Office of Graduate Studies Applicant website (<https://www.csus.edu/graduate-studies/future-students/application-information.html>).

Minimum Units and Grade Requirement for the Degree

Units required for the MA: 30

Minimum Cumulative GPA: 3.0. All units must be completed with a grade of "B" or better.

Advancement to Candidacy

Each student must file an application for Advancement to Candidacy, indicating a proposed program of graduate study (Project or Thesis). Students must be advanced to candidacy the semester before they enroll in SOC 500. This procedure can begin as soon as the classified graduate student has:

- removed any deficiencies in admission requirements;
- completed at least 12 units in the Sociology graduate program with a minimum 3.0 GPA; and
- completed a Graduate Writing Intensive (GWI) course in sociology with a "B" or better, within the first two semesters of coursework at California State University, Sacramento.

Advancement to Candidacy Forms are available online. Students fill out the form after planning a degree program in consultation with a Sociology graduate program faculty advisor. There are strict deadlines for Advancement to Candidacy form submission, so please refer to the Graduate Coordinator and the Office of Graduate Studies website.
