The program is designed for graduate students who expect to teach in community college or secondary or adult education settings in the U.S. or in adult or university level courses overseas. The program is also preparation for the Ph.D. in Applied Linguistics.

Students not meeting all requirements may be conditionally accepted as long as space is available in the program. Applicants must complete a university application by the posted application deadline date for the term applying.

The MA in TESOL includes the Certificate of Advanced Study in TESOL. Coursework for the Certificate must be completed with grades of ‘B’ or better. Credential candidates may apply for Supplemental Authorization in ESL through the Commission on Teacher Credentialing.
