

MINOR IN PREMODERN WORLDS

Total units required in the minor: 21, 6 in lower-division courses and 15 in upper-division courses

Program Description

The minor brings together a large number of courses that focus on premodern worlds' history, archaeology, social developments, intellectual achievements, arts, and languages. By taking such courses, students will have the opportunity to compare and contrast premodern developments in different regions around the globe, nurturing a well-rounded globalist approach to understanding humanity's past.
